INFORMATION AND EVENTS FOR TODAY'S SC PUBLIC LIBRARY TRUSTEES

JANUARY 2007

Be an Advocate for SC Association of Public Library Administrators Legislative Program!

One of the major functions of a library trustee is to be an advocate for the library. In addition to your work on the local county level to secure adequate funding, time should be spent on the statewide level as well. South Carolina public libraries depend on State Aid funding and lottery appropriations as a way to purchase more materials, upgrade technology and improve services. The South Carolina General Assembly begins its session in January 2007. Contact your library director for the South Carolina public library legislative agenda and be involved throughout the legislative session. Take some time to meet with your state legislative delegation to advocate for public libraries. Letters are another good way to communicate public library issues. Stay involved in the legislative process to obtain adequate funds for all SC public libraries.

Registration is open for 2007 Regional Public Library Board Training

The staff at the SC State Library will be offering regional trustee training during the first three months of 2007. These events will replace the annual trustee institute. The training is designed to provide up to two sessions of training on the basic responsibilities of being a board member and skills you need to be successful as a board member. We will provide dinner to each participant at no charge.
